

THE STRONG INFLUENCE OF BENEFITS

When asked how influential an overall benefits package is in the decision to leave a current employer, 76% of employees say it is influential.¹

Additional employee findings from the 2015 Aflac WorkForces Report showed:

59% are likely² to take a job with slightly lower pay but a more robust benefits package.

49% are likely² to look for a new job in the next 12 months.

Of those at least somewhat likely to look for a job in the next 12 months, 45% said improving their benefits package is one thing their employers could do to keep them in their jobs.
